RUPTUREWORT.

NAMES.

A.

G.

L. Herniaria.

I. Centograna.

G. Harnkraut.

F. Boutonet.

S.

D. Duyfengraen.

PARTS USED.

The whole Plant.

PREPARATIONS.

in the Shops, None.

PLACE.

Sandy Grounds, but not very common.

TIME.

June and July.

DESCRIPTION.

This small Plant spreads its Branches upon the Ground. The Stalk is Woody, which with the Leaves are of a Greyish Green, set with whitish hairs at the Edges, The Flower Buds are small and Round, and opens into five parts, set thick with short hairs on the outside, and of a light Green in the inside, there are in the flower five white Chives, The Summits 5 are very Large for the Size of the Flower with a Yellow Farina. 7 The Style on the Seed Vessel. 6 is short and Double, 8 a Seed, 9 is the Cip or what remains on the Stalk when the Flower is taken off. All the Parts at 2-3-4-5-6-7-8-9-10 are Magnified N.B. the Flowers on the Plant are Drawn too Large.

VIRTUES.

It has been thought a Specifick in Ruptures it is drying and Binding.

P. Stelcrake. delin. C. H. Hemerich. Sculp.